The Australian jellyfish is making an unwelcome return visit to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Attack of the Jellyfish II

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

Another invasion of giant jellies may be in the making in the northern Gulf of Mexico, and marine biologists are asking for help from area fishermen.

Harriet Perry, director of the Center for Fisheries Research and Development at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory here said scientists suspect that last year's invasion by swarms of the spotted Australian jellyfish may have left behind polyps capable of producing another generation in local waters.

The jellies appear to continue the expansion of their range, with recent sightings reported from the Indian River on the east coast of Florida. Monty Graham of the Dauphin Island Sea Lab examined the Indian River population and identified the jellies as the same species that bloomed in Mississippi last summer.

Concentrations were so high in the northern Gulf last summer that fishing trawls were damaged and fishing patterns had to be changed.

"We are concerned first of all about this species establishing populations and becoming a recurrent problem in the northern Gulf," Perry said.

"They have voracious appetites. They eat the plankton that support the larvae of commercial and recreational species. They also may be eating the eggs and larvae of those important species."

Board OK's new pay package

Ladner says he's seeking 'equitable' salary schedule

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

The Hancock County School Board at a recess meeting on Thursday approved a new two-year salary schedule for non-certified personnel that Superintendent of Education Mike Ladner says will "level the playing field."

Only two board members, District One's Larry Peterson and District Five's Lennette Necaie, dissented to the new plan.

Necaie stressed that neither she nor Peterson were against employee pay raises.

"I want the minutes to reflect that I'm not voting against raises,..." Necaie said, "despite what was printed in the Echo (last week). I'm voting

County seeking $780,000 in state Tidelands funds

BY ED LEPOMA
Staff Writer

Hancock County is going after $780,000 in state Tidelands funding for the fiscal year beginning in 2003.

The three coastal counties and cities within those counties had a July 1 deadline to make applications for the revenue, which comes from waterbottoms leased by casinos. The funds are distributed each November or December by Secretary of State Eric Clark.

Supervisors turned to Jeff Loftus, the county's consultant with the Gulf Regional Planning Commission, to prepare the grant application and to prioritize projects.

Loftus has requested funding for five projects, and Hancock County is offering to put up some matching funds, either with in-kind services or actual money.

When Hancock County did not receive any Tidelands funds for county projects in fiscal 2000, supervisors

Summer reading program a big success

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO

The Hancock County Library System's 2001 Summer Reading Program was a huge success, according to Jeanne Pierce, public and information services coordinator.

A total of 817 children registered for the program at all four branches, and more than 2,600 children and adults attended programs. The children read more than 16,000 books in four weeks, an average of 4,000 books per week and 20 books per child.

The Kiln Public Library registered 286 children, with a total of 1,096 children and 566 adults attending the programs.

At the Waveland Library Literacy Center, 45 children registered, and program attendance was 264.

The Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library registered 447 children. A total of 652 children and adults attended the programs.

Registration for the Pearlington Public Library was 39, with more than 101 children and adults attending programs.

Programs included a visit from Walter the Giant Storyteller, Scoops E. Clown, Joseph Harris the Magician, a ballet troupe, and more.

The City of Bay St. Louis hosted a program on fire safety at the Bay St. Louis Depot. The Bay St. Louis Fire Departments Fire Safety House also presented programs at the Kiln and Pearlington public libraries.

Lynn Meadows Discovery Center and Bookends Bookstore presented each child a prize at the end of the program. Grand prizes included free passes to Marine Life Oceanarium and gifts from Bookends Bookstore and The Kid Company.

Local businesses, organizations and individuals contributed by sponsoring performances for weekly programs. Those businesses, organizations and individuals supporting the summer reading program were the City of Bay St. Louis, ABC Rental, Aeon Enterprises, American Medical Response, Aqua PoolCo., Ms. Wang Bloom, Bookends Bookstore, Buccaneer State Park, Cajun Connection, Charter Mortgage, Coast Coca-Cola, D & K Quick Stop.

Parenting seminars set

Parent Partners, the parent training and information center of The Arc of Mississippi, will be hosting a series of seminars across the state to help parents of children with disabilities understand their rights in the public school system.

Parent Partners is a non-profit organization funded through a grant from the United States Department of Education.

These seminars will include information on the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), individualized education plans (IEPs), appropriate assessment, and much more.

There is no cost for the seminars. This seminar will be held Wednesday, August 8, in Gulfport at the Gulf Coast SRC located at 3109 Gulf Avenue from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Thursday, August 9, the same seminar will be presented at the New Hope Center in Ocean Springs beginning at 7 p.m.

Call Parent Partners at 1-800-366-5707 for information or to register for this training.

against this raise, rather than an across-the-board raise.

"I don't feel this raise is equal for everybody. ... I feel this will anger a lot of employees."

Under the new plan, Peterson said, "Somebody's getting more of a raise than others."

"You can apply your four percent across-the-board raise, if that's what you want to do," Ladner said Thursday, "but that's not going to make it fair for everybody. What this does is right the tilt."

"You're talking about percentages here, not dollars. If you give a two percent or three percent or four percent raise ... some people on this scale are gonna get more money than others."

The plan the board eventually approved Thursday is only Phase I of the administration's plans to make the district's pay scale "equitable."

According to district business officer Lynel Nease, "The current (00-01) non-certified scales vary in percentage with yearly increments ranging from less than one percent to over 20 percent, with the largest percent for some scales occurring between the first and second year of employment."

"Phase I represents the initial step to ensuring consistency among non-certified scales. Phase II, to be presented to the school board as part of the 2002-2003 budget, will provide all non-certified employees with experience of one to 20 years with a one and a half percent annual increment."

"The superintendent repeatedly stated that the approved scales for the '01-'02 school year are an attempt to realign non-certified scales and in no way should be considered a non-certified salary raise. Phase I of the scale realignment will cost the school district approximately $75,000, which represents over 200 district and federal employees."

In other action Thursday, Ladner accused board members of being a little heavy-handed with him and his administration, citing their constant scrutiny of his decisions, policies and procedures, and, in recent months, once-a-week board meetings.

"It's called micromanagement, guys," Ladner said. "At some point, you've gotta trust the management for something. ... The time and effort we put into (preparing for board meetings), well, we meet to meet around here. We can't get anything done."

Those comments came after board members balked at his proposed new procedures for board approval of employee travel. Under the new plan, Ladner wanted to be able in some cases to approve out-of-district travel himself after discussion with the appropriate principal or supervisor, then let the board approve whatever it needed to retroactively.

That measure, he said, would save time and paperwork, and allow a better workflow. Board member Peggy Haas Ladner, however, balked at the new procedure, reminding the superintendent that at one time he had initially approved letting an employee act as a chaperone on a school trip and be paid for the time, rather than acting as a parent volunteer. That would have unnecessarily cost the district hundreds of dollars, she said, and characterized the board's scrutiny of the travel agenda not as micromanagement, but merely as an extra stopgap measure to help ensure nothing improper slips through the cracks.

The board meets again this Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at the district central office at Kiln. Meetings are open to the public.

Southern Regional board pens reply to audit questioning purchasing practices

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

The Board of Directors of Southern Regional Waste Water Management District have issued a written reply in response to questions raised by the accounting firm of Moore and Powell last month concerning possible violations of state purchasing laws. The response was signed by board President and Mayor of Bay St. Louis Eddie Favre. Board attorney Lucien Gex said that there would be no further comment on what was contained in the audit draft, or the board's written response to Moore and Powell, until Southern Regional receives an official reply from the accounting firm. Gex said he did not know how long it would take for Moore and Powell to reply to the district.

An audit draft questioned 13 possible violations of the district's purchasing practices and procedures, including incidents in which the district may have paid invoices without approved written contracts; and possible double-payments for the same services.

In other business: The board voted to approve a memorandum of understanding with Pearlington Water and Sewer District contingent upon approval by all three entities, and the availability of funds. The memorandum was requested by Pearlington to assure the district that Southern Regional has a commitment to building a transmission line to Pearlington. Pearlington needs the memorandum to go forward with securing funds to construct its collection system.

Board member Gerald Gex and board attorney Lucien Gex questioned payment of an invoice submitted by Duke Levy and Associates for services in the first phase of a plant improvement project at Southern Regional.

Levy asked the board to approve a payment of $45,122 for engineering services performed for the start-up of the construction phase. The fees equal about 7.7 percent of the first invoice submitted by the contractor and were approved by the state. Engineering fees generally run about 10 percent of total contract price. Levy originally asked for a 10 percent fee, but that amount was not state-approved.

Gex and Gex were not questioning the amount Levy asked for, but rather the services he performed for the requested funds. The board made a request that Levy resubmit the invoice, outlining in detail what services he performed and the amount billed for each of the services.

A recessed meeting was held on Friday to review the new invoice, but Levy was unable to attend due to an illness in the family. Project engineer for the firm Bruce Newton appeared for Levy, but board members were unable to approve payment because at the time of the meeting, Levy had not submitted the requested revised invoice.

The board voted to recess until the new invoice was received.

Jellyfish -- they're back

Marine Resources and Graham tracked the progress of the 2000 invasion. They have already had unconfirmed reports of small jellies in the northern Gulf this week.

"It is critical that we have specimens to make a positive identification," Perry said.

Fishermen and trawlers are asked to bring in specimens to be verified.

Researchers believe that small jellies may be first sighted in the Chantelaur-Breton Sound areas.

"Just call the biologist listed for your state, and we will pick up the jellyfish," Perry said. "We also need the exact location of capture and approximate abundance observed in the area."

Perry said the spotted jellies do not sting, but she advised using a dip net to remove them from the water. They should be stored on ice or kept in a bucket of water.

Marine biologists to call are Perry at 228-872-4218 and Van Devender at 228-374-5000 for Mississippi, Graham at 251-861-7565 for Alabama and Vince Guillory of Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries at 504-594-4130 for Louisiana.

Kiwanis sponsors children's health fair

A free health fair for local children will be held at the Hancock County Civic Center on Longfellow Road August 11 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the health fair coincides with the beginning of the school year and will provide children from five to 12 years of age with a wide variety of free health and safety-related services.

The fair will offer the following services: dental screening, vision screening, fingerprinting, shots, physical screenings, information on Medicaid, free health insurance for children, fire safety, information on abuse and child safety, smoking and drug use, nutrition and other child/health-related subjects.

"We are very excited to offer the children in the community these services," commented Terry Latham for the Kiwanis. "Kiwanis are dedicated to helping the community, especially the youth of the community, and this is our way of giving every child a good start to the new school year."

"These free screenings are a terrific way for parents to have their child "checked out" to see if they have any vision or dental problems that need attention. The activities and other information available all add up to a complete package for our families that will promote good health."

The agencies and professionals currently committed include Hancock Medical Center, Dr. Frank Conaway Jr. DMD, Diamondhead Dental Center, Mississippi Department of Human Services, David W.

Tuminello, DDS, Family Child Center, Dr. Gregory, Optometrist, Bay St. Louis Fire Department, Hope Haven Children's Shelter, P.A.T.H., Hancock County Sheriffs Department, The Woman's Center and the Health Department. Additional agency and individual participation is likely. Pre-registration is not required. Services will be on a first-come first-serve basis. Contact Hope Haven at 467-7945 or Terri Yetter at 467-4100.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Thursday evening from 5 to 7 will mark the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce July Business After Hours.

Hosts for July's After Hours are Sundance - A Good Earth Development, Home Priority, L.L.C., and Neil Favre's Southern Delights Restaurant and Catering.

The event will take place at 103 Sundance Pass, off Sears Avenue, Waveland. This is a new subdivision being developed by Julie Rosson.

It appears that multi-hosting of the Business After Hours is becoming popular, and I know with Neil Favre doing the cooking, there will be some good eats at this event.

This is a good time for chamber members and guests to meet old acquaintances and make new ones and have a great time doing so.

I hope to see you Thursday evening at the After Hours.

Sundance Pass is located at one of the big curves of Sears Avenue a few blocks from the beach.

By the way, this is a plug for the chamber. If you would like to sponsor a Business After Hours, call the chamber's office at 467-9048 for particulars.

Activity will be taking place from 6 p.m. Friday to 6 a.m. Saturday at the J.D. McCullough Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

The annual Relay for Life, A Team to Fight Cancer will be taking place throughout the night.

The event is a unique concept that involves relay teams who take turns walking, running, or strolling around the track.

The teams consist of individuals representing families, corporations, clubs, organizations and neighborhoods.

A party atmosphere prevails among team members camping out on the surrounding grounds during the entire event enjoying music, food and camaraderie with each other as well as with other teams.

Team members seek sponsorships for their traveling around the track, and, of course, the proceeds go to the American Cancer Society to help fight cancer.

On Thursday from 6 to 7 p.m. at the J.D. McCullough Stadium is where the Bay High Tigers play. A special reception will honor cancer survivors and their families as part of the Relay for Life.

Survivors will be walking the first lap, and others walking the following laps for 12 hours will symbolize the united fight against cancer.

A special luminary ceremony will be conducted at 10 p.m. Friday night, when luminary bags will be placed around the track in honor of those who have survived cancer, those who are currently battling cancer, and in memory of loved ones who have lost their battle with cancer.

It is hoped that many will put their walking shoes on and come and join the big celebration, as we all have had someone in our lives touched by cancer, whether it be a friend, a family member, a co-worker, or an acquaintance.

Looking to do something different on Halloween night? You may want to consider volunteering to be a portrayer in Cedar Rest Cemetery of a family member or others resting in Cedar Rest.

On Halloween night, the Hancock County Historical Society hosts tours of the cemetery in which about a dozen folks give a brief history of someone who has contributed to the history of the area.

The Historical Society's Kate Lobrano House is also open on Halloween and has cookies, punch and 'spooks' during the tour which is from 5 to 8:30 p.m.

There is a $1-per-person donation for a tour which takes approximately an hour, and all the proceeds go towards the society's tombs and headstones repairs.

Guides in the cemetery and also hosts at the Kate Lobrano House are needed, according to Charles Gray, historian emeritus.

For further information, call the Historical Society at 467-4090.

Mississippi prepared to avoid base closures

Congressional clout is often cited as the reason Mississippi's military bases have eluded closure during three rounds of base reductions, but there are several other reasons these bases came to Mississippi, and have thrived in our communities.

These factors remain on Mississippi's side today as Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld calls for a narrow and targeted round of base closures. Community acceptance, and support.

Mississippians recognize that war is a tragedy of mankind, but an ever present reality of the imperfect world in which we live.

Our state's base communities have welcomed our Army, Air Force, Naval, Marine, National Guard and Reserve personnel to our state, accepted them and in many instances Mississippi has become a permanent home for them after their military career.

Though it is hard for us in Mississippi to imagine, there are some communities in our country which frankly show a contempt for our military, and a dismissive attitude about their presence.

To the contrary, Mississippians have displayed

FROM THE SENATE

By U.S. Senator

their support for our military time and time again, sometimes rallying the whole community behind our bases in times of national crisis, or in times when the future of our local installations seemed bleak.

Strategic mission: Most of Mississippi's bases serve to train the next generation of air force pilots, national guardsmen, naval aviators and technicians.

Training is what makes our military the most formidable force in the world. As we rebuild our military we will certainly need these world-class training facilities. I have asked Secretary Rumsfeld to keep training bases away from any base closure consideration.

Right now Mississippi's training bases are operating at full capacity, while other domestic and foreign bases are not heavily used.

Room to grow: Many of America's military installations today find themselves encircled by new commercial and residential development. While that may be good for the community, it can be bad for the military installation and its mission.

In fact, in the case of one particular community far away from Mississippi, residents near the base have even brought a lawsuit against the U.S. Navy regarding jet noise, even though the local installation has been there for decades.

Luckily, Mississippi's facilities do not have this problem. For instance, NAS Meridian and Columbus AFB are located well away from the city proper.

There is room for new operations, base expansions and other growth at these facilities, giving them another key advantage over other installations. If anything, we should be expanding these facilities.

Busy bases: Secretary Rumsfeld says our military still has many excess facilities that should be closed. However, Mississippi's busy installations certainly do not fit into the excess capacity description.

In addition to asking Secretary Rumsfeld to limit any base closure process to one round, I have also requested that we target only facilities with excess capacity, if a round occurs.

Many of our excess facilities are in other parts of the globe, including Europe. If the Europeans are to take more responsibility for their own defense, the U.S. should close its foreign bases first, before putting our domestic communities through the very difficult closure process.

Congressional opposition to BRAC: I also remain opposed to the Base Realignment and Closure Commission (BRAC). This supposedly independent commission was supposed to take politics out of the base closure process, but it has failed. Neither has BRAC shown any savings from previous closure rounds.

For years, Congress made base closure decisions based on recommendations from our mil-

MUNICIPALITIES

Q How may a municipal police department spend money received from a court related to a drug forfeiture?

A Such funds may be expended for any of its law enforcement purposes, subject to a separate budget approved by the board/council. (§41-29-181 and §41-29-185)

Q What authority do new municipal officers (mayor, board members, etc.) have?

A Municipal officers have only those municipal function powers set out by state law for their specific position and form of government; and only for the period of time elected to office. New officials should review legal authority and/or consult with their board attorney prior to taking any official actions.

Q Should a new municipal board review existing policies and procedures?

A Yes. State laws mandate certain procedures and grant municipal governing authorities authority to develop policies. A determination should be made that procedures are legal and policies reflect the position of the new board.

Q Should a new board reappoint its officers for the new term?

A Yes. (§21-3-5, 21-8-23, 21-9-27)

Q Must a municipality advertise to hire employees or contract for services?

A No, this is a local policy decision; however, purchases of commodities, construction, printing and solid waste services are subject to state bidding procedures. (§31-7-13)

Q May a municipality contract with its officers or employees or their relatives (parent, spouse or child)?

A No. Specific questions related to ethics should be present to the Mississippi Ethics Commission at (601) 359-4285. (§25-4-105 and §109 Miss. Constitution)

Q How can a municipality acquire access to the Miss. Code (State Laws)?

A A copy of the Miss. Code is provided to each municipal judge and may be accessed at the Secretary of State's web site (www.sos.state.ms.us) or a municipality may purchase books.

Q Is a municipality subject to regulations prescribed by the State Auditor's Office?

A Yes, for such things as budgeting, accounting, auditing, petty cash funds and travel advances. These regulations may be found in the "Municipal Audit and Accounting Guide" on file in the City Clerk's Office.

Transportation bill contains projects for Hancock

U.S. Senator Trent Lott and Congressman Chip Pickering praised the FY 2002 Transportation Appropriations Bill as reported by the Senate Appropriations committee.

The bill contains a variety of important projects for communities throughout Mississippi. It will be considered by the full Senate possibly as early as next week.

"Improved education, better education and jobs, are the priorities which I believe will transform our state and create a better life for Mississippi's people," Senator Lott said.

"This bill contains some very significant funding that can improve public safety and facilitate new residential and economic growth in all parts of our state. I am going to work aggressively toward the passage of this bill in the full Senate."

"The Airport Parkway will increase access and ease traffic flow in Rankin County," Congressman Pickering said.

"This helps to tie together the overall economic development plan for Rankin County with the developing international air cargo center at the Jackson International Airport."

The following are Mississippi projects contained in the FY 2002 Transportation Appropriations Bill:

* $11 Million - Airport Parkway Connectors & Pearl River Bridge - this funding will be used in the construction of a four lane divided highway from I-55 to SR 475 at the Jackson International Airport and will relieve traffic congestion on three existing routes: I-20, US 80 & SR 25. MDOT is utilizing $7.5 million of TEA 21 funds to design the project and begin acquiring right of way.

Funding in the Transportation Appropriation Bill will be used for construction. Project's total cost estimated at roughly $150 million.

* $3 Million - The Stack (I-55 & I-20 interchange in Jackson) - funding will be used for Phase 3 of this project which has a total estimated cost of $50 million. Phases 1 & 2 are already complete and open to traffic. Phase 3 will provide a 'flyover' that will carry traffic from US 49 directly to I-55.

This will significantly reduce traffic congestion on I-20 in this vicinity.

* Mississippi Airports - AIP (Airport Improvement Program) priority language for several MS airports including Stennis International Airport, Jackson International Airport, Gulfport-Biloxi Regional Airport & Olive Branch Airport, Tunica Airport, Mid-Delta Regional in Greenville, and Waynesboro Municipal.

* 2.1 Million - Pascagoula Airport - funding will be used for terminal air traffic control facilities.

* $55,000 - Olive Branch Airport - funding will be used for a medium intensity approach lighting system (MALSR)

* $750,000 - Stennis International Airport - funding will be used for a medium intensity approach lighting system (MALSR)

* $12 Million - SR 67 from I-110 to US 49 - this project will support a four lane facility between I-110 in Biloxi and US 49 at Saucier. Project will relieve traffic congestion on US 49, US 90, & I-10. Project includes a diamond interchange at the new Cowan-Lorraine Road Extension.

* $12 Million - I-69 in DeSoto and Tunica Counties - this funding will be used toward construction of I-69 from Odom Road to I-55.

* $8 Million - Harrison County Multimodal Project - funding is from the Federal Transit Administration Bus and Bus Facilities Account for this project which will provide hydro-electric shuttle buses and park-and-ride facilities for the coastal area of Harrison County. The project will significantly relieve traffic congestion in this vicinity.

* $4 Million - Hattiesburg Intermodal Project - City is seeking to develop a modern intermodal facility in its historic train depot. Project is aimed at seamlessly integrating urban mass transit with future high speed rail and is critical to efforts to revitalize downtown Hattiesburg.

* $2 Million - Jackson Multimodal Transportation Center - funding will be used to renovate the facility which will house the downtown Jackson Multimodal Transportation Center at Union Station; funds will also assist with water proofing of all rail tracks, lining the roof structure, and assist in relocating a bus terminal to the Center.

* $1 Million - Harrison County Intelligent Transportation System - project will utilize geographic information system, differential global positioning system, and geo-spatial analysis technologies to reduce the number and severity of motor carrier accidents and hazardous material incidents. The Harrison County Sheriff's Department will coordinate this multi-agency effort which will include the Police Departments of Gulfport, Biloxi, Long Beach, and Pass Christian in addition to the Sheriff's Departments of St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana and Mobile County, Alabama.

ity leaders. The future of our bases, our security and our base communities should certainly be up to those you elect, instead of an unelected commission.

Base infrastructure: Our active duty and reserve component bases have been rebuilt and are in great shape. No other bases in the country have been modernized more than Mississippi's bases. Since 1997, I have helped secure about $500 million in military construction projects for Mississippi's active and reserve installations.

Mississippi's bases enjoy the support of our communities. They have important missions, including training, and they can readily be expanded. They are modernized facilities bustling with activity, and they enjoy the support of Congressional representation opposed to BRAC.

We haven't lost a base yet, and our state is arguably more prepared to resist base closure today than at any time before.

Lisa Au of Hawaii receives the Sean Connery Award

Ladner coaches USA karate team in world championship

Rannier Ladner of Waveland was chosen as one of the coaches for the AAU-USA Karate Team. Ladner is owner and instructor of the Gulf Coast Shotokan Karate Club in Waveland.

The team consisted of 20 athletes from around the USA and competed in the WKC World Championship in Aberdeen, Scotland. The tournament consisted of 44 countries.

Ladner said, "I felt like we had a very strong team representing the USA, but the competitors were phenomenal. The fighters were very gifted and talented, and the katas were the best I had ever seen."

"We were strong in every area, but sometimes the breaks weren't going our way. Our ladies team seemed to be the strongest. We had two ladies from Hawaii. Barbara Chinen and Lisa Au were unstoppable. Barbara Chinen received first place in Kata and Lisa Au received first place in fighting, and she also received the one and only 'Sean Connery Award'.

"The ladies also placed second in team fighting. Some of the divisions had over 80 competitors. Some of our athletes were a half point away from first place."

"The team fought very hard, and we were very pleased with the outcome, even if the results were not medals. Several of our heavyweight fighters were disqualified for excessive contact."

"Overall, the USA made a very strong showing, and it was an honor just being part of the AAU-USA Karate Team. The trip was and is always a learning experience, and the countryside was beautiful, but it is always good to get back to my favorite place, Waveland."

Check boating equipment before problems occur

By James L. Cummins
Unless you have already done so, now is the perfect time to check your boating equipment.

However, for most fishing and boating enthusiasts, the only time we think about our equipment is when something is broken.

And this usually occurs when we are late, hungry or in the most remote area. Only now do we realize the true meaning of words like "fear," "stress," "self-control" and "preventative maintenance," as well as use a few other words that we won't mention here.

In other words you may be so excited to get on the water that you might not spend enough time checking safety equipment, maintaining your boat and motor or making other preparations for a safe trip.

There are several things one must consider in preparing for the season. The primary function of your boat trailer is to move your boat.

Contrary to popular belief, it is not to cause you to look for wheel bearings or tires before daylight on Saturday morning, or to take long walks to the nearest pay-phone. We both know the original plan was to be skiing, pleasure riding or fishing. Right?

Minor details like tire maintenance or replacement, wheel bearing lubrication or replacement will help you at least get to the water before trouble begins.

On to the boat. Boats are designed to move us from point

A to point B. And boats that do not run properly have been known to ruin an otherwise great day at the lake.

So, after taking your boat out of storage, and after you have fixed the trailer, there are several things you can do to enable the boat and motor to run better and longer. First, check navigation lights on your boat. A boat without navigation lights is part of the formula for disaster.

Next, check the lower unit of the motor. There should be two plugs in it. If you open the lower one and oil comes out, it is okay. However, if water runs out, have the lower unit checked by your local outboard dealer.

Water indicates that a seal has been broken or lost. This seal is not expensive to replace, but if you run an engine with a broken seal major problems can occur and ruin your day.

If your gas tank has been left with gas in it throughout winter, a small amount of condensation may have occurred. If you use that gas, adding an octane restoring additive will improve engine operation.

Also, if the engine has not been run in several months, a small amount of rusting may have occurred on the cylinder walls. To alleviate this problem, add a small amount of oil to each cylinder.

Next, pull the propeller, grease the prop shaft and check the shaft for any monofilament line or string that may be entangled on the shaft.

HMC's first Scrub Scramble planned at Pass Isles course

The Hancock Medical Center Foundation's first Scrub Scramble golf tournament will be Friday, July 20 at Pass Christian Isles Golf Course.

The shotgun start at 1 p.m. will allow golfers to work in the morning and start the weekend early, according to co-chairman Maurice Singleton of Bay St. Louis.

The four-person scramble format allows for maximum fun for players of all skill levels.

Prizes include $500 in gift certificates to Academy Sports to each first place team with low net and low gross and $400 in gift certificates to the Pass Christian Isles Pro Shop for second place low net and low gross teams.

Entry fee is $70 per golfer. All competitors will receive a customized scrub shirt, box lunch and beverages.

For information or to register, call John Baxter at 466-5930, Maurice Singleton at 386-7138, or Janet McQueen at 467-8790.

Five Gulf Coast students on USM cheerleading squad

Five students from the Mississippi Gulf Coast area have been chosen as members of the University of Southern Mississippi's varsity cheerleading squad for the 2001-2002 year.

They are: John Daniel Mills, a 21-year-old sophomore majoring in marketing. He is the son of Donald and Lennie Mills of Hattiesburg.

Courtney Cantrelle, an 18-year-old freshman majoring in marine biology. She is the daughter of Arthur Cantrelle of Ocean Springs and Cindy Cantrelle of Biloxi.

Leslie Estes, an 18-year-old student from Gulfport. She is the daughter of Jimmy and Lynn Estes of Gulfport.

Christopher R. Fryer, a 24-year-old senior majoring in finance and marketing. He is the son of William L. and Dianne Fryer of Bay St. Louis.

Timmy Moe, an 18-year-old freshman majoring in business administration. He is the son of Kenny and Melanie Moe of Vancleave.

The squad will cheer at football, basketball, soccer and volleyball games, as well as at pep rallies.

Body builders

Garrett Garcia and Charles Hawkins, both of Coastal Wellness & Fitness Center in Bay St. Louis, recently won awards in the New Orleans Bodybuilding & Fitness Champions Competition at the McAllister Auditorium, Tulane University. Garcia placed first in the Teen (18 & Over Division), and was Best Poser Overall. Hawkins was Overall Champion and First Place in the Light Heavyweight Division.

Woods to lead Wolves

The Mississippi Sea Wolves announced that Bob Woods, player/assistant coach for the past three seasons, will take the reigns as the fourth head coach in the team's five year history.

Woods, a member of the 1999 Kelly Cup Championship team, is the ECHL's all time games played leader with 599.

In his 13 professional seasons, Woods has played in the American Hockey League, the Colonial Hockey League, the International Hockey League, the East Coast Hockey League and in Europe.

His impressive career on the ice was highlighted with a Calder Cup Championship in Hershey and a Kelly Cup Championship here in Mississippi.

"My experience as a player and an assistant coach in the ECHL will be a huge benefit to me," commented Woods on his first head coaching job.

"I feel I have an advantage because I know this league, I know the players and I've played in almost every rink. I've been on the Coast for some time, and I'm a part of this community. Every coach has to start somewhere... I'm happy I get to start here."

"With his playing experience, his background, his personality and his work ethic he can only succeed," added Sea Wolves Owner/ General Manager Jean Gagnon.

DMR announces boat and water safety class schedule for July-Sept.

The Department of Marine Resources' (DMR) Boat and Water Safety class schedule for July through Sept. is now available.

Classes are free and open to the public and all age groups. So far this year, the DMR has conducted more than 38 boat and water safety classes and certified more than 359 students.

The State Marine Patrol issued 209 citations for boat and water safety violations from January to May 2001. Of these, 50 were for insufficient personal flotation devices (PFD). For the same time period, Marine Patrol reports that there were 14 boating accidents and four deaths.

In order to operate a motor boat or personal watercraft in Mississippi, those born after June 30, 1980 are required to successfully complete an approved boating safety course and to have a certificate of satisfactory completion in their possession while in operation of the motorboat.

In Mississippi it is against the law for anyone under the age of 12 to operate a motorboat or personal watercraft unless they possess a certificate and are accompanied by a parent, guardian or other person who is at least 21 years of age.

In an effort to help save lives, a new law has taken effect requiring anyone riding or operating a personal watercraft in Mississippi waters, including those waters north of Interstate 10, to wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved type 1, 2, or 3 PFD. Marine Patrol officers have been enforcing a similar ordinance in Mississippi waters south of Interstate 10 since January 2000.

To help reduce the risk of a potential accident, the DMR encourages everyone to enroll in a certified boat and water safety course. The DMR Marine Patrol-sponsored courses have been designed to effectively introduce topics such as boat registration, navigation rules, trailering, first aid response and weather watch into a comprehensive one-day class.

The classes are taught locally with many convenient locations. For more information, to register for classes or to bring a class into your school, call Lt. Frank Wescovich, director, DMR Boat and Water Safety Bureau at (228) 435-1332 or (228) 432-2820.

Fire Dogs name Players of Week

The Mississippi Fire Dogs of the National Indoor Football League, NFL, have announced the team's selections for offensive, defensive and special team players of the game, after the Fire Dogs' 56-29 win in the Dog House against the Louisiana Rangers.

Second year Receiver #4 Lamont Woodberry was selected offensive player of the game. Woodberry had five receptions for 84 yards and three touchdowns through the air while adding a TD on the ground.

Head Coach Irvin Favre said, "Lamont had a great ball game, he has stepped up and become our go-to guy in the passing game. He has become a leader on and off the field."

Defensive player of the game goes to second year Defensive Lineman #75 Derrick Cagins. Cagins had five tackles, one tackle for loss and 1.5 sacks.

Favre said, "Derrick played a whale of a game, he kept pressure on the quarterback all night. He may have had only 1.5 sacks, but the hits he put an Austin just after he released the ball were too many to count."

Special teams player of the game goes to first year Linebacker #33 Monte Gatlin. Gatlin had three tackles on special teams and five total tackles for the game.

Favre said, "Monte is a leader on special teams, he sacrifice his body then goes and plays the same way on defense. He is an exciting player to watch."

The 12-1 Fire Dogs will play host to the 7-6 Tupelo Fire Ants, Saturday, July 14 with kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

Hope Haven kicks off membership drive with Sunday beach party

Hope Haven Children's Shelter is throwing a "beach party" on Sunday afternoon, July 22, as a start for its two-month membership drive. The kick-off party will be held at "Daydreams" underneath the "Good Life" on Beach Blvd., downtown Bay St. Louis.

Festivities begin at noon with a live band "Distinctive Attitude" playing from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Free hamburgers, hot dogs and chips will be served, and liquid refreshments can be purchased.

There is no admission or cover charge to attend. Children are welcome, however young children must be closely supervised due to the proximity of the water.

The local children's shelter is entering its sixth year of operation and has been an example of how concerned citizens can make a difference.

Started by four local women, Carole Ripley, Mary Carpenter, Lois Griffin and Bobbie Barr, the non-profit "beat the odds" and has become a valued community resource.

The shelter has provided a safe haven for over 700 children from birth through 18 years of age and is supported by many local businesses, municipalities, organizations and citizens.

"We want to show our appreciation to everyone who has supported us," said Judy Thompson, board member and event organizer.

"But we also need to boost our membership, as our new shelter will cost more to operate. We can now accept up to 15 children, and that means higher bills on everything from electricity to food, clothing and school supplies.

"Our membership contributions were about 7 percent of our support last year and we have set a goal on increasing that to at least 10 percent for this coming year.

"Like many charities, as the economy cooled down over the last six months we have seen a significant decrease in contributions. Memberships provide a stable source of income that we really need."

As part of the membership drive, Hope Haven will be offering new and renewing members, who sign up at the "sponsorship" level ($100 per year) or higher, a variety of gifts.

The gifts have been donated to the charity or have been purchased with donations earmarked for such a purpose, and no operational funds are involved. 100 percent of all membership pledges are used to operate the shelter and care for the children.

Hope Haven is the only non-profit children's shelter on the Coast, and it serves children from all of the local counties.

Tidelands

learned they would have had a better chance of funding had the county offered some kind of match.

Loftus ranks expansion of the county marina at Bayou Caddy as the top priority. The county is requesting $350,000 in Tidelands funds and is offering a $40,000 local match.

According to the application, supervisors want to use the funds to construct a small fishing pier and more slips for commercial and recreational boats. Currently, there are only slips for commercial vessels to lease at the county marina.

Second in priority, according to the application, is a request for $30,000 for continued improvements and repairs at the Washington Street Pier. The county is offering an in-kind match of $5,000.

Third on the list of projects is a request for another $100,000 for expansion of the Clermont Harbor Pier. The county pledges a $10,000 match.

Funds would be used to extend the pier between Clermont Harbor and Buccaneer State Park to approximately 300 feet. The first unit of the pier, a 50-foot walkway with a canopy, was recently completed at a cost of about $49,000. Another $150,000 is being requested for continued improvements at McLeod Water Park. The county is offering a $15,000 match.

Funds would be used to add restrooms, shower facilities, and a pavilion and to improve piers used for fishing and temporary mooring for vessels.

The county is also requesting $150,000 to dredge Paradise Bayou, the main outlet to the Bay of St. Louis and the Jourdan River from Diamondhead. The county is offering a $15,000 match.

In the application, Loftus said many residents outside the Diamondhead Community also use this bayou from the Bay and Jourdan River to purchase fuel and bait at the Diamondhead Marina. However, during the winter months, a number of Diamondhead boats are landlocked due to the shallow waters in the bayou, he explained.

Loftus explained Hancock County, along with other counties and cities, is waiting on a decision for funding projects requested for the upcoming fiscal year, 2002. Those funds will be distributed this coming November or December.

For fiscal 2002, the county requested a total of $515,000.

The county is seeking $250,000 to build more slips at the Bayou Caddy Marina; $75,000 to expand the Dunbar Ave. pier; $60,000 for improvements to the Curtis Johnson boat launch in the NASA buffer zone; $100,000 to extend the Clermont Harbor pier from its current 50 feet to 200 feet; and $30,000 for a patrol vessel for the sheriff's department.

HMC to host 55 Alive mature driving course

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) and Hancock Medical Center will sponsor a refresher course for drivers 55 years and older on Wednesday and Thursday, August 1 and 2.

The 55 Alive Mature Driving course focuses on safe driving tips and accident prevention. Completion of the eight-hour program results in a significant savings on most automobile insurance policies.

The classes will be at the Hancock Medical Center Business and Education Complex (use Emergency entrance off Highway 90) from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. both days.

The course consists of classroom lectures and discussions only. The fee is $10 for class materials, payable by check to AARP on the first day of class. Participants should each bring a current drivers license to class.

Space is limited, and registration is required. Please call 467-8727 for information.

Eight insurers command 65% of market share in hurricane-prone states

In hurricane-prone states, residents are covered by just eight large property and casualty insurers, according to a recent analysis by Weiss Ratings, Inc., the nation's only provider of independent insurance company ratings and analyses.

In 2000, eight carriers commanded 50.4% of the market in Florida, 57.5% in North Carolina, 62.3% in South Carolina, 81.4% in Texas, and 64.1% in Louisiana. Those eight companies are:

State Farm: Homeowners premium ($000) 7,530,049; market share hurricane-prone states 26.5%; market share national 21.8%

Allstate: Homeowners premium ($000) 3,971,965; market share hurricane-prone states 13.3%; market share national 11.5%

Zurich Financial Services Group: Homeowners premium ($000) 2,916,221; market share hurricane-prone states 7.8%; market share national 8.5%

Nationwide Group: Homeowners premium ($000) 1,553,525; market share hurricane-prone states 5.6%; market share national 4.5%

Citigroup: Homeowners premium ($000) 1,243,337; market share hurricane-prone states 3.9%; market share national 3.6%

USAA Group: Homeowners premium ($000) 1,234,242; market share hurricane-prone states 5.3%; market share national 3.6%

Safeco: Homeowners premium ($000) 826,365; market share hurricane-prone states 1.2%; market share national 2.4%

Liberty Mutual: Homeowners premium ($000) 708,535; market share hurricane-prone states 1.5%; market share national 2.1%

Total of Top 8: Homeowners premium ($000) 19,984,239; market share hurricane-prone states 65.1%; market share national 58.0%

Industry Total: Homeowners premium ($000) 34,476,747; market share national 100.0%

Just two companies - State Farm and Allstate - controlled 39.8% of the total market share in the hurricane-prone states last year.

Their shared market dominance in Florida where they hold one third (33%) of all policies is particularly striking.

"To understand why this is cause for concern, just remember what happened in the wake of Hurricane Andrew in South Florida," explained Martin D. Weiss, Ph.D., chairman of Weiss Ratings.

"Insurers claimed it was unreasonable for them to be expected to cover risks of such magnitude and ceased writing new business, they asked regulators for help in paying claims, and they jacked up rates. Now, nine years later, those same players have achieved an even more dominant position in the market."

Over exposure in a hurricane-prone state portends danger for the financial health of an insurer. Already this year, $2 billion in damages were recorded in Texas and Louisiana as a result of Tropical Storm Allison, and 11 more named storms are predicted for the remainder of 2001.

Last year, Zurich had the most exposure, with 36% of its total homeowners business in the five hurricane-prone states. Among the remaining seven insurers, the exposure ranged from 11% (Safeco) to 32.7% (USAA).

The growing concentration of the homeowners insurance market is a national phenomenon that has been progressing for many years.

At year-end 2000, the same eight insurers controlled a record 58% of the market, compared to only 26% in 1965, while State Farm and Allstate have increased their market penetration even more dramatically - up from just six percent of the national market in 1965 to 33.3% in 2000.

"With too few choices for consumers and too much risk for insurers, this over-reliance on a small group of companies for critical homeowners coverage is a major cause of concern for both consumers and state governments," said Dr. Weiss.

Profits of Property and Casualty Insurers Decline 55% From 1997 to 2000

The nation's property and casualty insurers, covering more than 30 lines of business, saw profits decline 55% in three years, from $59.1 billion in 1997 to $26.7 billion in 2000.

This drop was caused by a combination of increased underwriting losses and decreased investment income, which is typically used by insurers to offset underwriting losses.

In 1997, insurers' underwriting losses hit $875 million - their lowest point in ten years - and began climbing until they reached $27 billion in 2000.

This three-year period coincides with the hardening of the underwriting cycle, which occurs as insurers raise rates in response to mounting losses.

Companies experiencing the largest decline in underwriting earnings from 1997 to 2000 are: State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company (Ill.), declining $4.7 billion; State Farm Fire and Casualty Company (Ill.), declining $1.4 billion; Allstate Insurance Company (Ill.), declining $908 million; and United Services Auto Association (Texas), declining $817 million.

Receives award

Angelyn Treutel receives the American Association of Managing General Agents Achievement Award from Preston Gough, president of Southern Cross Underwriters at the 103rd Annual Convention of the Independent Insurance Agents of Mississippi. The award was given in recognition of Treutel's contributions as chairperson of IIAA's Technology Committee. Founded in 1899, IIAA is one of Mississippi's oldest and largest associations, representing a network of more than 240 independent insurance agencies located throughout the state. Independent insurance agencies provide customers with a choice of policies from a variety of insurance companies and offer multiple lines of insurance, including property, casualty, life, health, employee benefit plans and retirement products.

Chamber co-sponsors workshop

The USM Small Business Development Center is offering a workshop, "Finding Money For Your Small Business" on Thursday, July 26, 1-4 p.m. at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, 412 Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

This workshop is for current or potential small business owners interested in financing. Speakers from a variety of agencies will discuss financing options available on the local, state, and federal levels.

The fee is $18 per person in advance. To prepay, mail check made payable to USM SBDC to USM Small Business Development Center, 136 Beach Park Place, Long Beach, MS 39560.

Acquisition

C. C. Lynch & Associates, Inc. (CCLA), of Pass Christian, has acquired EMSI, Inc., of Houston, Texas. CCLA is an employee-owned sales and service company specializing in environmental instrumentation since 1966. EMSI is a manufacturer representative and service company founded in 1980. "The EMSI, Inc. acquisition allows us to merge inventory and administrations, freeing up more resources for sales and customer service and expanding our Texas operations," according to CCLA President Trey Campbell. "The product lines and markets served are near identical which should equate to a rapid transition." The acquisition will increase the CCLA operation to $8 million annual sales with a total of 26 employees. ## Black-eyed Susan vines perfect for all gardens

SOUTHERN GARDENING
BY NORMAN WINTER
MSU Horticulturist
Central Mississippi
Research & Extension
Center

One of the most striking vines for the Southern landscape is about to get a new infusion of promotion thanks to the debut of two new varieties.

Sunny Orange Wonder and Sunny Lemon Star are new black-eyed Susan vines (Thunbergia alata) being introduced by BallFlora Plant. Hopefully they will make their way to garden centers next spring.

Black-eyed Susan vines have been around but are much underused. To date, Susie is the most recognized variety and comes in yellow, orange and white. Angel Wings has white flowers and an ever-so-light fragrance.

The colorful bright orange, yellow or white flowers, resembling black-eyed Susans, adorn a vigorous climbing annual.

I frequently talk to gardeners who practically swear these flowers are yellow or orange with brown buttons similar to a rudbeckia, but you will see the difference if you look closely. These are actually tubular flowers that are brownish-purple inside.

The black-eyed Susan is a very versatile vine. It can be grown at the entrance to the cottage garden or as a bright addition to the tropical garden. Regardless, grow them over an arbor or along a fence. They will even work on the mailbox.

Some of the prettiest companion plants in the cottage garden are perennial blue salvias, such as Victoria Blue, Salvia indigo-spires or the Blue Anise sage.

I also like the new Angelmist

ALL ALONG THE WATCH TOWER

Echo staff photos by Bennie Shallbetter
Mary Wilcox can finally get back to a lifelong interest, painting. She has transformed part of the round room at the base of the tower into an art studio.

Clermont woman's unusual family home draws attention from all over the country

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Clermont Harbor resident Mary Wilcox is a very private person living in what was once a very public place. A tower on her property, built in 1943, by her father Hugh Turner Carr, is popularly known as the Clermont Harbor light house, though the building was never a lighthouse, and instead served as a watch-tower during WW II.

The tower was featured in all kinds of articles, Wilcox said, in local papers, Down South Magazine and even a brochure from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce in the 1960s. At one time her father ran an antique business and woodworking shop from the property.

"My father was an amazing man, incredibly talented," said Wilcox. "I just happen to be his daughter."

"Just last week a strange man came right up to my door, passed my large glaring dog and knocked, saying that his wife wanted to see the tower," said Wilcox. "I told him that the property was no longer open to the public."

These days, all Wilcox really wants is to be left alone in the peace and quiet of her tree filled retreat to do the painting she never had time to do before.

"There was always something else to do," Wilcox said.

Wilcox and her husband Delmar raised five children and ran a successful appliance business on Coleman Ave. in Waveland for years.

The two bought the property from her father in 1965, "just in time for Camille," said Wilcox. Carr moved to the country in the North of the county and stayed there until he died in 1984 at the age of 88.

"I think he was tired of hurricanes," Wilcox said. Delmar passed away two years ago.

Wilcox has set up her studio in the room that her father built around the base of the tower to serve as temporary living quarters after the 1947 hurricane, which destroyed the Carr home. The round room has been used for many things through the years, including a workshop for her father's antique business.

"But for years it's been used mainly for storage," Wilcox said. Now Wilcox has started a tradition with her 10 grandchildren. She allows them to use the base of the tower for their painting projects, while she works in the studio.

The tower itself stands 40 feet high with 49 steps winding in a spiral to the top landing, where countless volunteers stood watch, on round-the-clock shifts during WWII. During the war years, watch stations were common in coastal areas.

Carr built the tower from an informal design he drew himself on a piece of paper, using materials from the family sawmill and lumber business, which closed down during the war years, Wilcox said. He was a member of the Civil Defense and volunteered for the project because it was something he enjoyed doing, Wilcox said. She was a teen-ager at the time.

Wilcox remembers that there was a phone at the top of the tower so the volunteers could call in their sightings to the Third Fighter Command. At times, there were a lot of trainers (bi-planes) out over the water, she said. She also remembers how excited her father was to see one of the first jet planes fly past the area.

Back then, the area was clear all the way to the beach. Now it is hard to imagine that a coastal watch took place at the tower. The view from the top these days is still beautiful. But instead of beach and stretches of unbroken sky, the view is of large fruit trees, oaks and flowering shrubs, Wilcox's private Mecca.

If the tower on the property were not enough of an attraction for curious eyes, then the two-story round house that two generations of the family have now called home completes the draw. The original house was destroyed in the 1947 hurricane.

The family weathered the storm in the attic of the house. Carr had watched how the water had swirled around the tower during the storm. It rode out the storm like a ship at sea.

Progress is good, but 'How would we see the Moon?'

Will Rogers once said, "All I know is what I read in the papers." Things have changed a little and today I guess he would have thrown in television, but essentially what he said is still true. I find things in the papers that inform, amuse, and sometimes amaze me.

While reading the Sunday Echo at breakfast a couple of weeks ago, I came across an article that fell into the last group.

In brief, the article stated that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors are planning to install, and I quote, "250-watt interstate high pressure sodium lights" along the beach road from Waveland to Bay St. Louis. In addition, they would increase the number of lights on the road from 54 to 73.

The reason for this, and again I quote, "is to brighten the walkway and improve safety and visibility for motorists."

To say I was amazed when I read this is putting it kindly. After all, despite its name, Beach Boulevard is a two-lane county road not Highway '90! I have never heard of an accident happening on the beach road that could be blamed on poor lighting.

In fact, the whole rationale seems strange when you consider that the number of beach rapes, beach muggings, and beach baby snatchings we have is on par with cities such as Nome, Alaska; Thule, Greenland; and Coffeeville, Mississippi.

But it appears that the supervisors also want to "brighten the walkway."

Let's be serious, the reason people are on the beach walk at night is not for the brightness of the way. Think about it. Why in the world would anyone want to walk there if it was lit up like a Wal-Mart parking lot? Where would be the ambience?

There is no doubt to me that all a person will see if the proposed lighting is installed: A blacktop two-lane boring county road and a concrete walkway. Nothing else! Not under the glare of "250-watt interstate high pressure Sodium lights!" Interstate!!

Where would be the magic that the people are there for in the first place? I'm sure there is a certain thrill in holding you true love's hand when you walk on the beach during the day. But be truthful, doesn't that thrill increase tenfold when you do the same thing when you walk on a beach lit by stars.

Golly gee! Image asking the spark in your life to go for a walk on a concrete walkway under "250-watt interstate high pressure Sodium lights."

Why are they doing this? I realize that there are many things in life that should be done and I am for doing these things. I am also aware that there are many things that, if we had the time, we might do. And I am all for doing these things if we can.

However, lighting up the beach so that it looks like some minor league ballpark is not one of these. In my opinion, increasing the lighting of the beach is akin to installing megawatt fluorescent lights in the tunnel of love, in your master bedroom and in the IMAX theatre.

Life is nice. Life is full of wonder, of beauty. We in our fumbling ways have at times tried to improve on life, to make it a little easier without destroying that wonder and beauty.

Amazingly, we have occasionally succeeded. We've brought into existence such things as good shoes, comfortable pillows, hot showers, and bifocals. There are probably a few more, but you see what I mean.

There are others ways that we have progressed that have not been as successful: hothouse tomatoes, cell phones in restaurants, and the "Attention Shopper" announcements in our local stores are a few examples. You could probably think of a lot of others.

But these, while annoying, are harmless. We manage to go through our existence annoyed by them, but not too deeply bothered. Perhaps, we think, that God has allowed us to introduce these things into our lives to test us.

Perhaps this is so, and we should in all humility bow to his wisdom and accept these annoyances as contrivances of our

Stennis scientist teams with company to develop system to analyze seawater samples

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO
NASA chief scientist and biological oceanographer Dr. Richard Miller of the Earth Science Applications Directorate at Stennis Space Center needed a more efficient method of analyzing water samples at sea.

The development of Ultrathin™ "an optical sample cell system with user-selectable path lengths" by World Precision Instruments Inc. (WPI) appears to suit his needs.

Miller conducts research aboard ships in ocean systems "around the globe to support NASA's satellite programs." Water samples are obtained to verify the observations from space, particularly "Chlorophyll A" concentration, a molecule that absorbs light and is found in all plants. Colored Dissolved Organic Matter (CDOM) that is generally associated with land runoff is an important component that controls ocean color in coastal waters. The presence of CDOM complicates the use of color satellite sensors. Determining how CDOM absorbs light helps us evaluate the accuracy of products developed from satellite imagery, Miller explained.

"Until now, the standard procedure for processing seawater samples was to freeze them and then ship them to port for spectral analyses," Miller explained. "The procedure was time-consuming and costly. I had an idea there should be a better way."

Enter NASA's Kirk Sharp, manager of the Stennis Office of Technology Transfer. Sharp and his staff teamed Miller with WPI, a Florida-based, international manufacturer of laboratory equipment.

"The combination of significant commercial potential and government need made the arrangement of a cost and risk sharing agreement a natural for this project. This dual-use approach for government investment in technology development ensures that commercialization happens," Sharp said. "Working together under a cooperative agreement, the company has developed and is now marketing the Ultrathin™."

"Dr. Miller's design requirements over the last two years of development defined the need for a rugged instrument system to be used in the field that was capable of high sensitivity measurements across widely divergent sample types," Mathias Belz, senior scientist for WPI, said.

"It was a challenge to configure the solution." Miller said the flexibility of the system solves a critical problem for oceanographers and opens the doors to numerous other applications. The Office of Technology Transfer at Stennis works to identify technology development opportunities and make these available to domestic companies. It does so through licenses, partnerships, and providing technical assistance.

Registration for 2001-02 school year set

All students expecting to attend Bay St. Louis-Waveland Schools in the 2001-2002 school year must register at the school to which they are assigned.

Registration will be July 30 through August 3, from 8 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., with staff available on Thursday evening, August 2, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Students who have not registered prior to the first day of school will not be assigned a schedule. Students report for their first day of school on Friday, August 10.

Students who do not know which school they are to attend should call the central office at 467-6621. Students who enter first grade must be 6 years old on or before Sept. 1, 2001; kindergarten students must be 5 years old on or before that date.

Each new student must bring to registration the certificate of immunization from the Health Department or local physician, a copy of their birth certificate, and their Social Security number. A report card or other record of grade placement is necessary to make official grade level assignment.

New students enrolling in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Schools will not be permitted to register unless residency has been verified through proper documentation. Parents must provide the school with a copy of two of the following items for verification of residency: filed Homestead Exemption application form; mortgage documents or property deed; apartment or home lease; utility bills; driver's license listing present address; voter precinct identification; automobile registration; or an affidavit of residence.

Returning students who have moved since the previous school year must provide two proofs of residence upon registration. No student will be permitted to attend classes until all registration forms have been completed and properly signed.

All students will report for a full day of school on Friday, August 10, at the following times: Bay High (9-12) and Bay-Waveland Middle School (6-8) 8 a.m.; all elementary schools (K-5) 7:30 a.m.

Bus information will be posted at each school during registration. Parents with questions about busing should contact Laidlaw at 466-9002 or 467-9023.

Weddings and Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Hughes

Hughes-Moore married

Tammy Rae Moore of Kiln and Jeffery Scott Hughes, also of Kiln, were united in marriage June 23, 2001 in an afternoon ceremony in Old Spanish Trail Baptist Church. Justice Court Judge Tommy Carver officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Dianne Moore of Bay St. Louis and Arthur Ray Moore of Alvin, Texas.

She was given in marriage by her brother, Scott Moore of Mooresville, N.C.

For the occasion the bride chose a white satin, Antebellum-style gown with a lace neckline and beaded trim with a long train and a large bow in back, also featuring scalloped lace around the bottom. Her cap and veil in white were adorned with white roses and beaded trim. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor was Natalie Smith, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Beth Lummus, sister of the bride, and Nicole Moore, niece of the bride.

Ring bearers were David Moore and Jeremy Moore, sons of the bride, and Bible carrier was Austin Ladner, nephew of the groom.

Flower girls included Samantha Smith, Casandra Smith and Kayla Lummus, nieces of the bride, and Brittney Ladner, niece of the groom.

Best man was Morgan Ladner, brother-in-law of the groom.

Ushers were Robbie Smith and Matthew Lummus, nephews of the bride.

Groomsmen were Jack Hoffman and Brian Carlese, friends of the groom.

A reception was hosted at Bayou Phillips community Center. The wedding cake was by Betty Necaise, and flowers and decorations by Myrtle Collins of Robert, La.

The couple will reside in Kiln.

Tower

Although there was some damage to the top of the tower from the winds, it remained intact.

Most everything in the lower part of the house was destroyed or washed away, including Carr's priceless antique collection. All the family had left was the clothing on their backs.

Carr decided that if a round tower could withstand a hurricane, then a round house could do the same. He put his concept down on paper, as he had done when he built the tower, and started the round house, which was completed in about 1950. The family lived in temporary round quarters built at the base of the watch tower while the house was being built.

When Camille came along in 1969, Carr's theory of round houses was tested again. This time the family did not weather the storm at the house, but the house remained intact, though a rectangular addition to the structure was destroyed, Wilcox said. A testament once again to angelonias as lower level plants. Tall perennial summer phlox planted in front also make an impressive show.

For the tropical garden, try combining with the Princess Flower (Tibouchina urvilleana) or red cannas and in proximity to bold foliage of bananas and elephant ears.

Choose a site in full sun to partial shade and plant after the last frost of the year. Prepare the soil deeply by adding 3 to 4 inches of composted pine bark and humus, and till to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. While tilling, incorporate two pounds per 100 square feet of bed space a slow-release, 12-6-6 fertilizer.

Set out nursery-grown transplants at the same depth they were growing in the container. It is also easy to grow from seed.

Sow three seeds about one-fourth inch deep, water and cover with mulch. Germination takes 10 to 21 days. Remove the weakest seedling by cutting.

Feed with a light application of the fertilizer every four to six weeks.

Keep well watered to keep them growing vigorously. The black-eyed Susan vine climbs easily, so provide a sturdy structure. Occasionally, spider mites can be a problem, so watch and treat early if necessary.

Keep your eye out at garden centers for a close relative of the black-eyed Susan vine called the Sky Flower.

The Sky Flower, known botanically as Thunbergia grandiflora, is a very vigorous tropical vine that produces large blue trumpet-shaped flowers almost the size of an allamanda flower.

You will want to buy this one in at least a gallon-sized container in the spring, and you will be rewarded with loads of flowers from late summer through fall.

I have seen it come back from the ground these past few mild winters in Brookhaven, but most of us will want to take cuttings, dig up and cut back severely, or treat as an annual.

Once you start growing vines, you really get hooked, and the black-eyed Susan vine is one you will want to try. If you see the Sky Flower try it, too!

own making and proof of our humanity.

But there are other things.

There exists things which when we come across them in life that we intuitively know are wrong: pits in watermelons, fire ants, phone solicitors.

Again I think you can add to this list. I think also that there can be no doubt in your mind that these are bad; these are things that are not needed. These are things that blight the fundamental joy of our daily life and that we should work hard to do without.

We've just about taken care of the pits in watermelons and have a crude grasp on fire ants, beyond picking them up by one and squeezing them. I have also been told by reliable sources that phone solicitors are on the road to eradication in the second, or if not then, at least by the third decade of this century.

Now flush with these successes, let us turn our full attention to these thoughts of lighting up the beach so that it looks like some minor league ballpark.

Like the pits in watermelons, this too, can be stopped.

Student Ambassadors to visit the British Isles

Rachel Anne Lennon, daughter of Thomas and Winnie Lennon of Bay St. Louis has been selected by the People To People Student Ambassador Program to visit the British Isles this summer.

Rachel will be traveling with a delegation of 37 students and three teachers from New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Illinois. Rachel is a member and also an alumni of the International Program. She has attended the same program last summer when the delegation went to Australia.

The Student Ambassadors will spend approximately three weeks learning about the government, economy, and culture of the British Isles through activities such as briefing at embassies and ministries, discussions with industry and trade officials, site visits to the headquarters of international organizations, and meetings with youth clubs.

Delegations will receive an overview of the cultural heritage of each country during visits to major historical sites and performances of ethnic music and dance. The delegation will travel to London, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

As part of their overseas experience, Student Ambassadors will have home visits with host families. Host families include their American guests in everyday activities, enabling the Student Ambassadors to gain a first-hand understanding of the ways people live and work in other cultures.

Each Student Ambassador is selected on the basis of recommendations and personal interviews with members of a screening committee.

Once students are accepted into the program, they prepare for their overseas project by attending orientation meetings in their own area and studying background material on the countries and organizations they will visit.

Young Americans have served as Student Ambassadors since 1963. As a result, many former Student Ambassadors have been inspired to pursue international careers in business, law, government service, and teaching.

Alumni of the program have reported their overseas experience and the maturity and world awareness they gained provide a competitive advantage for university acceptance as well as a new appreciation for life in America. Outstanding Student Ambassadors are also eligible to apply for future service as interns.

grants.

Rachel has also earned a high school and a university credit from her studies of Australia last summer. She can earn another high school and up to five university credits from this year's program, through the Eastern Washington University, after successfully completing the 240 hours of study time required by the university.

Next summer, Rachel will be eligible to travel to Paris with the Student Ambassador Program delegation.

PRCC to advertise for expansion bids

The Pearl River Community College Board of Trustees Tuesday authorized the school to advertise for bids for expansion of the Allied Health Center on PRCC's Forrest County Center in Hattiesburg during the regular July meeting.

Some $650,000 has been set aside for that expansion, which would provide for additional classrooms and an X-ray laboratory to support the school's radiologic technology program. David Landry of Landry and Associates in Hattiesburg presented those final plans to the board.

"We need to create more space on our Hattiesburg campus to accommodate the anticipated growth in that area," said PRCC President William Lewis. "We continue to grow in numbers on our Hattiesburg campus. This past year we had more than 1,000 academic students."

Construction on the 10,000 square-foot expansion could begin this fall and take five to six months to complete.

The board also heard an update from Landry on the Advanced Technology Center in Hattiesburg, which will be located in the Hattiesburg-Forrest County Industrial Park. The Mississippi Legislature has set aside $4 million to build the center.

Landry said the basic plan for the two-story 35,000 square-foot structure is complete. The design and development phase is expected to take about two more months before it is submitted to the state Building Commission for final approval.

"A lot of thought has gone into this project. We are tickled where we are now," said Lewis.

Clifton Wade, director of buildings and grounds at PRCC, reported that renovation work on the information management building on the Poplarville campus is on schedule.

Wade said the $408,000 project should be completed this fall.

In other business, the board:

> Approved several new hires for the upcoming school year. James Patterson, a graduate of Sumrall High and PRCC, will be the new welding instructor at the Forrest County Center in Hattiesburg. He has more than 12 years of welding experience and is presently working as a certified pipe welder and fitter. He replaces Doyle Stubblefield, who resigned last month.

Steven A. Saucier, a graduate of PRCC and the University of Southern Mississippi, will be the instructor for computer servicing technology at the Forrest County Center. He has more than 17 years of experience in information systems and systems administration.

Starting this fall, PRCC will begin offering an Associate in Applied Science degree in Computer Servicing Technology.

Jason Dawsey has been hired as a history instructor. He attended PRCC in 1990-91 and is a USM graduate currently working on his Ph.D. in history.

Charles A. Ponder has been hired as an instructor of business and economics. He is a USM graduate with 12 years of teaching experience.

> In another personnel move, Tara Rouse has been appointed director of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and Director of the Wellness Center. She replaces Melanie Morris, who resigned last month to accept a teaching position at Tulane University in New Orleans.

Rouse has been working as a Wellness Center assistant and an adjunct instructor since the Wellness Center opening on the Poplarville campus.

Cook graduates from LSU Health Sciences

Nearly four hundred health professions students graduated from the LSU Health Sciences Center May 19 at UNO's Lakefront Arena.

Graduates included students from LSUHSC's Schools of Allied Health Professions, Nursing, Graduate Studies, Dentistry and Medicine in New Orleans.

The ceremony was presided over by Dr. Joseph Moerschbaecher, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Dean of the School of Graduate Studies, and Dr. Adele Spence, Associate Dean of LSUHSC's School of Graduate Studies.

Degrees were conferred by Dr. William Jenkins, president of the LSU System, and Roger H. Ogden, chair-elect of the LSU Board of Supervisors.

The Commencement Address was given by Charles N. Bertolami, D.D.S., F.A.C.D., Dean of the School of Dentistry at the University of California, San Francisco.

Among the graduates was Kathryn Susanne Cook, daughter of William R. and P. Caryl Bensch of Diamondhead. She was awarded a bachelor of science in nursing degree.

Cook is a graduate of Hollywood Christian High School. She and her husband, Steven, live in Diamondhead.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

HER NAME HAS BECOME PART OF OUR LANGUAGE—JEZEBEL!

SHE INSTALLED, IN THE PALACE, AND SUPPORTED, NINE HUNDRED PRIESTS OF THIS HEATHEN RELIGION AND, IN TURN, HUNTED DOWN THE PRIESTS OF ISRAEL AND SLAUGHTERED THEM WHERE EVER SHE COULD! LOUNGING IN ORIENTAL LUXURY IN THE PALACE, SHE DIRECTED THE POLICIES OF THE KINGDOM WHILE AHAB SAT MEERLY BY HER SIDE, NEVER DARING TO DISPUTE HER. HER SCHEMINGS, HER CRUELITIES, AND HER PASSION FOR BLOOD-SPILLING ARE RECORDED IN THE BOOK OF 1 KINGS. ONLY ELIJAH, THE GREAT PROPHET, STOOD UP AGAINST THIS WICKED QUEEN AND FOUGHT HER EVIL INFLUENCE AT EVERY TURN. HER OWN DEATH AND DESTRUCTION WAS PREDICTED BY THE PROPHET AND TOOK PLACE EXACTLY AS HE PREDICTED IT WOULD! (1 KINGS 9:30-37)

IT HAS BEEN A CUSTOM, IN MODERN TIMES, WHEN A WOMAN ATTRACTS AND SEEMS TO EXERT UNIQUE INFLUENCE OVER A MAN, OR MANY MEN, FOR PEOPLE TO CALL HER A JEZEBEL. HOWEVER, NO MODERN COUNTERPART COULD EVER COMPETE WITH THE ORIGINAL JEZEBEL FOR DOWNRIGHT EVIL AND MURDEROUS ACTS! BORN A PHOENICIAN-PRINCESS, DAUGHTER OF KING ETHBAAL, SHE MARRIED KING AHAB OF ISRAEL (CIRCA 865 B.C.) AND, IN SHORT ORDER, COMPLETELY DOMINATED THIS WEAK-WILLED RULER. ONCE AHAB WAS UNDER HER CONTROL, JEZEBEL IMMEDIATELY SET ABOUT DESTROYING ISRAEL'S RELIGION AND REPLACING IT WITH THE WORSHIP OF BAAL AND ASTARTE, PHOENICIAN DIETIES OF HER HOMETOWN.

NEXT WEEK: HE HAD TO REBUILD THE WALLS TO REBUILD A NATION!

Mississippi Baptists hold Gulfshore Youth Weeks

Seven youths and adults from Shoreline Park Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis attended the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board's Youth Weeks at Gulfshore Baptist Assembly June 14-18.

The theme of the camp is Reality vs. Illusion, with a scripture emphasis on Ephesians 5:1-2. There are 18 counselors for the youth week camps, and a four-member band, Refuge, that leads worship.

"Gulfshore Youth Weeks exist to provide youth an opportunity to worship, engage in Bible study, develop relationships with peers, and receive missions and leadership training," said Reid Vance, program director for the camp.

Gulfshore Baptist Assembly, which is located in Pass Christian, is managed by Frank G. Simmons and owned and operated by the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board.

HCERF announces thrift shop

The Hancock Thrift shop had its grand opening Saturday, June 16 with a steady stream of customers.

The thrift shop is an outreach of the Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund, Inc. which operates under the supervision of the Hancock County Ministerial Alliance. It is located at 1239 Hwy. 90 directly across from Charlie Henderson Ford.

Thanks are in order to the many merchants and individuals that have assisted in making the grand opening a success. Special thanks to Sav-A-Center, Winn-Dixie, Waveland Market, Wal-Mart, McDonald's Restaurant, Lightning Signs, ABC Rental, U-Store-It, Hubbard's Hardware, 84 Lumber, Bailey Lumber, Sandra Roberson, Mr. Gavney at the Zoning Commission, Sheriff Garber and Gerald Nacaise for inmate labor and the many local churches and individuals who have contributed items and volunteered their time.

The objective of the Hancock Thrift Shop is to raise funds to enable the Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund, Inc. reactivate its assistance with emergency needs in the community.

For decades the HCERF has served the community, but in 2000 became inactive when United Way funding was discontinued.

Donations of cash and merchandise is welcome and volunteer help is needed.

Contact director Lois Rowley at 466-0506 or 466-0194.

Fearful of Speaking Your Mind

Some people have a certain amount of fear when speaking their mind on certain issues, especially when it comes to telling others what they want in a relationship, in a job, or whatever the case may be. Since these things may be uncomfortable to talk about, they are often avoided. But by avoiding them, we may forfeit the opportunity to correct a situation or get what we really want. On the other hand, if we suggest something and the person is not responsive, we are usually no worse off than we were before. At least we know we tried, and we may still be able to affect a change through our efforts. Although there are things in life that we may avoid because of the chance of anguish or discomfort, the anticipation is often worse than the thing itself. The Bible tells us that there is no fear in love: perfect love drives out all fear. So then, love has not been made perfect in anyone who is afraid, because fear has to do with punishment (1 John 4:18).

*In God have I put my trust:
I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.*

K.J.V. Psalm 56:11

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Do it all with a smile

Understandably, the line of cars at each pump was long because premium 93-octane gas was going for only $1.37 a gallon.

So I was surprised to find one line a bit shorter than the others, until I pulled up and saw the reason. One of the two pumps read, "Out of Order."

Only partially daunted, I pulled up behind an aging couple. In a matter of moments I soon saw that this one car might very well take as long as any other two or three cars, as the aging twosome got out of the car in slow motion, scanned the surroundings, and proceeded to slow-mo everything else.

At this juncture, I already had the mischievous, suspicious feeling that the good Lord was having a bit of fun, putting me to the test.

Drawing a deep breath, I smiled through the thick, humid, steamy air of the eighteenth day of summer. I kicked my feet forward and cooled my heels, settling myself in for a spell. It was simply time to chill a bit.

At first unable to unscrew their gas cap, the slow-motion wonders went about their business, at length closing the pump and taking off.

Sure, the strong temptation was to fuss and fume about their taking all day to move from any A to any B or C.

However, the reflection that these folks were only a handful of years older than I, and that all of us are heading for where they are, cooled me down into a mellow enjoyment of the moment.

After all this, I pulled up to the pump, eyeing suspiciously the front of the pump which featured a piece of paper blowing in the wind.

My worst fears were realized when I read it: "Unleaded regular only." Old flivvers like my 2000, 000-miles-plus 1984 Olds Delta 88 do much better on premium gas.

Now my suspicions were giving way to conviction that the Lord himself had a hand in this, again putting my patience and goodwill to the test.

Pulling around to another pump, I was beaten to the punch by a relieved couple who scooted in to get gas.

A partially disabled man who had just pumped gas witnessed the race I lost and smiled brightly at me for my small piece of misfortune. I beamed back at him and threw up my hands.

I smiled even more broadly at the couple, craning my neck, only to be greeted by the same sign: "Unleaded regular only." This time I stepped out to read all the signs in order to stake out the premium pumps operating.

Believe it or not, my turn at the pump eventually arrived, and I was able to step out and get a full tank of that inexpensive gas.

Once more, my grin was there, telling a tale of patience, humor and actual enjoyment. Added to that was the satisfaction of that inexpensive - I won't call it cheap - gas.

Driving away, I felt very pleased at my day's lesson, which by then, I was convinced, was a Godsend. What struck me most of all was my feeling of well-being, peace and enjoyment which were all stronger than when I had parked behind the aging couple at the pump.

Yes, quite often the most irksome things in life are priceless and can lose all of their annoyance if we allow them to evolve into a live lesson. Instead of pulling off half-cocked and steaming about delays and faulty pumps, I left a satisfied man who felt more in control of himself than a half hour before.

And I actually enjoyed the whole episode! Our frequent experiences in checkout lines is not very different from the gas pump caper.

For some inscrutable reason, most of us choose the line with a slow cashier, fumbling buyers or defective card machines. Our attitude can make us enjoy even that.

That's right. Negative stress is not always a given. We often choose to have it and nourish it. Most smaller situations in life are neither negative nor positive. We determine how they will impact us.

We can fight the details of life, or we can wear those details "as a loose garment," to use freely a wise old saying of our elders.

This loose wearing allows us to relax and enjoy instead of tightening up, clenching our jaws and fists, and showing the world how ticked and teed off we can be.

All our life, we have heard songs urging us to look on the bright side or, literally, in the words of one song, "Do It With a Smile." "On the Sunny Side of the Street" and "Look For the Silver Lining" headline the parade.

Paul looks at it from a slightly different angle: "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Corinthians 9:7). Amen. It can make anyone a happier camper.

PUBLIC NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR COASTAL WETLANDS PERMIT AND WATER QUALITY CERTIFICATION

Grand County has filed an application with the Department of Marine Resources requesting permission to conduct regulated activities under the provision of the Coastal Wetlands Protection Act of 1972 at 542 Bayview on Back Bay, Biloxi. The applicant is requesting permission to construct a marina consisting of three boat slips with associated piers, mooring piles, and docks. The piers, mooring piles, and docks shall cover less than 50% of the State water bottom within the near-shore waters of the Mississippi Sound.
In compliance with Section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251, 1241), as amended by PL 95-217, Grand County requested certification from the Office of Pollution Control that the above mentioned activity will be in compliance with applicable provisions of Section 301 (33 U.S.C. 1311), Section 302 (33 U.S.C. 1312), Section 303 (33 U.S.C. 1313), Section 306 (U.S.C. 1316), and Section 307 (U.S.C. 1317) of the Act and appropriate requirements of the State Law.
Any person wishing to make comments or objections to the proposed regulated activity must submit those comments in writing to the Department of Marine Resources at 1141 Bayview Avenue, Biloxi, Mississippi 39530 and the Office of Pollution Control, Post Office Box 10385, Jackson, Mississippi 39205 before 1:00 p.m. on the day of July 23, 2001.

Resolution 2001-1

Whereas, the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District (the "District") desires to amend and supplement the existing water rate ordinance of the District by adding thereto the provisions stated hereinafter; and
Whereas, after consideration of said amendment, the District Board does hereby enact, resolve and find as follows, to wit:

1. The following amendment is hereby enacted to amend and supplement the Amended and Restated Diamondhead Water and Sewer District Water Rate Ordinance, by the addition of the following section, to wit:
"2.7 Delinquent Accounts
a) It shall be the duty of the District to work with customers to attempt a mutually agreeable payment schedule for delinquent accounts. In the event that the customer is unwilling or unable to make such an arrangement, the District, the service will be terminated.
2.7.1 The steps to service termination are as follows:
a) Payment must be received by the District within 48 hours of the date of the delinquent account. If payment is not received by the 15th of the month following the billing period, bills are normally mailed to the customers on the 1st of the month or nearest work day to the 1st of the month. The account is termed to be "delinquent" as of the 16th of the same month.
b) A late fee assessed after the 15th of the month. This amount is shown on the bill.
c) Late notices are mailed to the customer on the 20th of the same month. The customer has ten (10) days following the date the late notice is mailed to the customer.
d) Notices on the late notices shall be as follows:
WE REGRET TO INFORM YOU THAT YOUR ACCOUNT IS IN PAST DUE. PLEASE MAKE PROMPT PAYMENT TO AVOID TERMINATION OF SERVICE.
PAST DUE AMT.
TERMINATION DATE
e) TERMINATION BY LAW IF PAYMENT IS NOT MADE BY THE TERMINATION DATE. RECONNECT FEES ARE ADDED TO THE PAST DUE AMOUNT. AFTER THE SERVICE IS TERMINATED, THERE ARE 30 DAYS TO RECONNECT. NORMAL BUSINESS HOURS, OR 5:00 P.M. AFTER NORMAL BUSINESS HOURS.
f) The business office will attempt to contact the customer by phone on the 3rd day prior to the cutoff date and/or a door hanger will be placed at address of water service which states that if payment (or an agreement for a payment schedule) is not made by the cutoff date, water service shall be terminated by shutting off the water valve on the District side of the water meter and a secure lock affixed to prevent access by unauthorized persons. Payment is defined as any and all overdue amounts owed to the District including sewer charges. Payment must be received by the District within 48 hours of the date of the delinquent account. If payment is not received by the 15th of the month following the billing period, bills are normally mailed to the customers on the 1st of the month or nearest work day to the 1st of the month. The account is termed to be "delinquent" as of the 16th of the same month.
2.7.2 The steps to restoration of service for a customer who has had a delinquent account are as follows:
a) Customer deposit funds will be applied toward the delinquent amount due. Should the customer elect to have the service restored, the customer may, at the discretion of the General Manager of the District, be required to pay a deposit not to exceed six (6) month minimum billing for water and sewer combined. In any event the deposit on file with the District shall not be less than the (3) month minimum billing for water and sewer service combined.
b) For customers that are granted a payment schedule, as agreed by mutual consent of the customer and the General Manager of the District, an interest rate not to exceed 1% per month may be charged to the customer for the unpaid balance of the delinquent account. If the account is paid in full and the necessary deposits made:
1. This resolution shall be in full force and effect from the date hereon, and the General Manager of the District is authorized to publish notice of same in the Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper of general circulation in Hancock County, Mississippi and in the District once each week for three successive weeks according to law.
After being moved by Commissioner McCoy and seconded by Commissioner Tapley, the above and foregoing resolution was duly adopted by the following vote:
Don Young, Chairman, aye
Kenneth J. Tapley, aye
Thomas McCoy, aye

Public Notices

Resolution 2001-2

Whereas, the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District (the "District") desires to amend the existing water rate ordinance of the District by deleting thereto the provisions stated hereinafter; and
Whereas, after consideration of said amendment, the District Board does hereby enact, resolve and find as follows, to wit:

"SECTION 6. Tap Fee
6.1 A water tapping fee shall be collected prior to the installation of new water service when no water service is available. The fee shall be based upon the projected actual cost of labor, materials, and equipment necessary to install the service plus ten percent (10%) overhead. In any event the actual cost of labor, materials, and equipment is more or less than that projected, then an adjustment shall be made and in the event a refund is due the Customer will be given such refund, and in the event an additional charge is due, the customer shall pay the additional charge or it may be added to the monthly bill."

2. The resolution shall be in full force and effect from the date hereon, and the General Manager of the District is authorized to publish notice of same in the Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper of general circulation in Hancock County, Mississippi, and in the District once each week for three successive weeks according to law.
After being moved by K. Tapley and seconded by J. McCoy, the above and foregoing resolution was duly adopted by the following vote:
Don Young, Chairman
Kenneth J. Tapley, aye
Thomas McCoy, aye
Raymond Murphy, aye
Jack Cleveland, aye
I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of Resolution 2001-2 of the Diamondhead Water and Sewer District and of the exact minutes of said District effecting such adoption at the regular meeting of the District held on May 14, 2001.

Local artist receives Mississippi Arts Commission fellowship

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO
Artist Joseph Anthony Pearson of Waveland has been awarded a $5,000 fellowship from the Mississippi Arts Commission, said Betsy Bradley, executive director.

Pearson was the recipient of the prestigious Pollock-Krasner Foundation of New York grant in International competition in 1998. His work is featured in the book Art in Mississippi 1720-1980 which is marketed internationally.

Pearson was commissioned by the White House Historical Association to represent the state of Mississippi on the White House calendar year 2001 in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the White House.

The fellowship, a portion of the $1.7 million in grants the commission will award in 2001-2002, will be used to "create a body of work that will use the female form to express spiritual attributes such as determination, serenity, dignity and the intrinsic beauty of mankind inherent in all humanity."

"The physical form and nurturing makeup of the female seems the best vehicle for expressing these qualities" said Pearson.

"This body of work will consist of a series of paintings in oil, and limited edition monotype and linocut prints."

The grants are made possible by the continued funding from the Mississippi State Legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts. Bradley said $1.35 million in grants was awarded July 1; the remainder will be distributed during the fiscal year.

"Without a doubt, high quality arts programs, organizations, and individual artists enhance and even change lives throughout the state in thousands of measurable ways," Bradley said. "Community involvement and legislative support propel these changes and affirm that the arts are vital to Mississippi's growth. Communities continue to show that area festivals, artist residencies, after-school programs, musical and theater performances, and arts programs serving at risk youths are vital to their children's lives and education, as well as their area's economic development."

The commission is a state agency that serves more than 1.7 million Mississippians through grants supporting programs to enhance Mississippi communities, assist artists and arts organizations, promote the arts in education and celebrate Mary Rowe, Pearson's model and inspiration for Determination.

Mississippi's cultural heritage. Established in 1968 by the Mississippi State Legislature, the Commission is the official grantsmaking and services agency for the arts in Mississippi.

Pearson is represented by Stella Jones Gallery of New Orleans. He currently has work on display in the area at Serenity Gallery, Jere's in Gulfport and Gulfside Assembly.
